

Retirement became a synonym for numerous options besides education: painting with a broad brush, completing Book 2, building a nascent woodworking business, gym rat time, and the ubiquitous Pickleball. They all occupy both mind and spirit without restraint. Most terrifying, our local chapter of RENY brings to the surface a collection hibernating technology skills. Jim Howard is the new editor of the Nor'Easter.

